Tax-Exempt Organizations

Our lawyers represent tax-exempt organizations in all aspects of the "life cycle" of such organizations. We represent such organizations in their creation under state law and in obtaining determinations of tax-exempt status from the Internal Revenue Service. We also represent such organizations in complying with federal, state and local laws in their ongoing operations, including compliance with gift acknowledgement requirements by organizing exempt for tax under Section 501(c)(3), and in addressing legal and tax questions in structuring their fundraising programs. We represent such organizations in their dissolution and winding-up under state law and termination with the Internal Revenue Service.

Our clients include public charities, supporting organizations, and private foundations, as well as title holding companies, trade associations, business leagues and social clubs.
