Treasury Institute Symposium 2009

January 26, 2009

Vorys partner Benita Kahn will be presenting "Red Flags Rules" at the Treasury Institute Symposium. The Symposium will take place January 25-28, 2009 in St. Petersburg, Florida at the Hilton St. Petersburg Bayfront.

Treasury Symposium is the premier educational forum for treasury professionals in higher education. The Treasury Institute for Higher Education leverages the expertise of its Partners, its Faculty, and its Participants to create an environment for sharing best ideas and developing successful strategies. Treasury Symposium is focused on the challenges facing Higher Education's senior managers. The curriculum is designed to stimulate thought leadership and provide "best of breed" ideas. Over the two and one-half day Symposium, you will be a part of both large plenary sessions and breakout roundtable sessions facilitated by leading practitioners, academic leaders and innovative experts.
