

Attorneys & Professionals

- Jackie Ford

Related Practices

- Employee Discipline and Termination
- Employment Counseling
- Employment Litigation
- Employment Policies and Manuals
- Employment Relations, Policies, and Regulatory Practice
- Labor and Employment
- Workplace Technology Policies

Using Social Networks: How to Limit Liability and Increase Business Benefits

Presented by the Center for Competitive Management

June 16, 2009

Join Vorys partner Jackie Ford as she leads a teleconference entitled, 'Using Social Networks: How to Limit Liability and Increase Business Benefits' on June 16, 2009 from 2:00pm-3:15pm.

Among many other points, Ms. Ford will discuss:

- How the FCRA factors into social networking
- What online profile information can be used and what is off limits when evaluating job applicants
- Action steps to take if an employee releases sensitive company information on his online profile
- How federal and state discrimination laws play a part in social networking

HRCI credit will be offered. For more information about this teleconference and to register, please visit http://www.c4cm.com/hr/social\_networks.htm.