

ERISA Litigation

In addition to our regulatory employee benefits practice, we have significant experience litigating all aspects of employee benefit matters, including prosecuting and defending lawsuits related to executive compensation contracts, severance plans, retirement plans, health plans, and disability plans. Our litigation teams are efficiently staffed to provide our clients with the benefit of both regulatory expertise and strong trial practice experience. Our ERISA litigators have represented clients ranging from small businesses to large public corporations. In addition, we have significant experience representing multi-employer plans and in litigating the unique issues that arise under those programs.
