

Health Care Fraud and Abuse/Qui Tam Actions

Government agencies have aggressively escalated their investigations and prosecutions of health care entities. Increasingly, the vehicle of choice for pursuing claims against health care providers is the federal False Claims Act. The FCA allows cases to be brought by “whistle-blowers” suing on behalf of the government against those alleged to have submitted false claims for payment to an officer of the United States.

Our firm has wide-ranging experience in litigating False Claims Act cases, including successfully defending our clients at trial. Our litigation work in this area, for example, includes obtaining dismissal of a case alleging that a hospital overcharged Medicare and Medicaid on various claims. We also have assisted clients in conducting internal investigations, advised corporations on the advantages and disadvantages of voluntary disclosure, and worked to convince the Department of Justice not to intervene in civil fraud cases brought by qui tam relators. In addition, we counsel clients on the creation of compliance programs.

RELATED PRACTICES

- Antitrust and Trade Regulation
- Corporate and Business Organizations
- Government Relations
- Health Care
- Insurance
- Labor and Employment
- Litigation

ATTORNEYS

- Michael J. Bronson
- Paul J. Coval
- Michael Scot Gordon
- Patrick M. Hagan
- Joseph W. Harper
- Jolie N. Havens
- Craig A. Hoffman
- Peter A. Lusenhop
- Anthony J. O'Malley
- James E. Phillips

- Suzanne J. Scrutton
- Victor A. Walton, Jr.
- Glenn V. Whitaker
- Adam L. Wright

Health Care Fraud and Abuse/Qui Tam Actions (continued)