BROWNING RECEIVES 2019 LEXOLOGY CLIENT CHOICE AWARD

February 15, 2019

Steve Browning, the managing partner of the Vorys Houston office, was recently awarded the 2019 Lexology Client Choice Award for banking in Texas. The Client Choice Awards, established in 2005 recognize partners around the world that provide excellent client service. The criteria for the awards focus on the ability to add real value to clients' business above and beyond other players in the market. Uniquely, these awards only survey and accept nominations from senior corporate counsel who rate lawyers on a range of client service criteria including industry knowledge, strategic thinking, responsiveness, tailored fee structures, project management and overall value, among others. The 2019 award recipients were chosen from a pool of more than 2,000 individual client assessments. Browning is among only 160 law partners in the U.S. to receive a Client Choice Award this year.

Browning practices primarily in the areas of finance, derivatives and real estate. He has extensive experience in the representation of commercial banks and borrowers, both publicly and privately held, in a wide range of financing transactions, including syndicated loans, asset based loans, mezzanine and second tier financings, multicurrency transactions, general secured transactions, supply chain and real estate finance, loan restructurings, and intercreditor and subordination agreements. His practice also includes the representation of numerous financial institutions and public and private companies in derivatives activities, including advising on Dodd-Frank regulatory requirements, and the negotiation of derivative transactions and structured financial products, including transactions under the ISDA Master Agreement and related schedules and annexes, including credit support documentation.
