Jabari is an associate in the Vorys Cincinnati office and a member of the Vorys eControl group. His practice focuses on brand protection and antitrust advising.

Jabari helps brands identify and solve their online distribution issues, including pricing, product diversion, counterfeit and unfair competition issues. He has significant experience designing and implementing enforcement strategies that help brands identify and remove unauthorized sellers.

He has experience counseling clients on antitrust issues regarding price fixing and compliance. As part of his antitrust practice, Jabari works with manufacturers and retailers on matters relating to Minimum Advertised Pricing policies and Resale Price Maintenance. He advises clients regarding vertical pricing issues and how business clients can structure their relationships with distributors and retailers to avoid violations of the Sherman, Clayton and Robinson-Patman Acts. He also regularly trains executives and sales teams on competition issues and how companies can structure their business operations and communications to lower their antitrust risk.

Jabari has experience counseling athletes and entertainers and helping them structure and utilize sponsorship deals, licensing contracts, marketing campaigns and other promotional activities to help with the commercial growth of their individual brands and personas.

Jabari served as a staff attorney to the Honorable Judge Tom Heekin of the Hamilton County Court of Common Pleas. He also served as a judicial extern to the Honorable Judge Timothy Black and Magistrate Stephanie K. Bowman in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio.

Jabari received his J.D. from Northern Kentucky University Salmon P. Chase College of Law, where he was an associate editor of the Northern Kentucky Law Review. He received his M.B.A. from the University of Cincinnati, and his B.S. from the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs.
