Vorys attorneys Chris Ingram and Gretchen Rutz will host a webinar to discuss the newly approved California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 (CPRA). California voters recently approved the CPRA, a new privacy law which significantly expands California residents' privacy rights beyond those previously created by the California Consumer Privacy Act. This presentation will discuss the new and expanded privacy rights afforded by the CPRA, the clarifications it provides to existing privacy law, and action items for businesses subject to the CPRA. Additionally, this presentation will address the immediate and future privacy implications for companies that do business in California.
