Vorys Attorneys Eve Stratton, Allen Rutz and Mitch Tobias will be presenting at the Ohio Insurance Institute Continuing Legal Education (CLE) Symposium on March 3, 2020. The title of their presentation is, "The Road to Autonomous – Obstacles and Opportunities for the Insurer." Insuring autonomous vehicles is the new Wild West of insurance, with numerous questions about how to quantify an unknown risk, and even what to insure: hardware, software, driver error, programming, cyber-attack risks, and the like. This presentation and panel discussion will examine the historic and expected future role and development of insurance products for the personal automobile market in Ohio, taking into consideration the rapid pace of technological developments, potential government regulations, and the role of the tort system in this new frontier.
